ENTRETECHNOLOGY WINS INTERNATIONAL CONTRACT WITH FORTUNE 500 BIOMEDICAL COMPANY

FORT WORTH, Texas -- May 1, 2007 -- EntreTechnology, a leading provider of OEM technology and embedded computing solutions, announced today that it was awarded an international PC fulfillment project by a global, multibillion-dollar, broad-based health care company.

The contract covers PC equipment used to remotely monitor, manage and service several lines of medical diagnostic instruments such as immunoassay systems and hematology analyzers. EntreTechnology will be relied upon to ship pre-configured PCs that are customized for each installation direct to the end-user location.

"Back in January, 2006 we were awarded the U.S. fulfillment portion of this contract. Based on our performance over the past 16-months, our customer decided to award all of the fulfillment activity to us, which involved transitioning it away from the multi-billion dollar aggregator they had been using for the International portion." said Bob Clayton, President of EntreTechnology. "We are very pleased to be awarded the entire contract. It demonstrates the confidence our client has in our ability to act as an extension of their organization to serve their customers and markets."

The contract calls for EntreTechnology to configure a Windows-based PC with site specific settings and ship it directly to the end-user location for installation by a Field Service Engineer. The PC operates in a "headless" configuration, which means it does not have a keyboard, mouse or monitor. EntreTechnology expects unit volume under the contract to double due to the International activity. Total unit volume and dollar value of the contract were not disclosed.
